Death of "Jumbo."

Old Jumbo, Barnum's big elephant, is dead. He was killed by a locomotive at St. Thomas, Ontarie, one night last week. There were 31 elephants with the show, and all had been placed on board the cars except Jumbo and Tom Thumb, the dwarf clown elephant. As these two were being walked along the track in order to reach their cars, about 9:30 o'clock, a special freight train approached from the east. The headlight of the locomotive was not seen until it was within 500 yards of the animals, when signals were given. At about the same time the engineer noticed the elephants on the track, and whistled for brakes three times and reversed his engine, but the track there being down grade the train could not be stopped. Jumbo was ahead in charge of his keeper, Mr. Scott, known to all the circus people as "Scotty," with Tom Thumb in the rear. When Scott noticed the danger he urged Jumbo to increase ville, Wis., Monday, while attempting to sell a ning by its side. But it was of no use. The train could not be stopped, and as it came thundering along it first struck the clown elephant, throwing him into the ditch, and then dashed into Jumbo. As the locomotive struck the mighty monster it was as if two trains had come together, and the freight train was stopped, the engine and two cars being derailed. Jumbo was struck in the hind legs, and as the cowcatcher hit him he gave a loud roar and fell, the engine and edge of the first car passing along his back and inflicting terrible bruises. Jumbo was not instantly killed, but lived for 15 minutes after being struck, dying while efforts were being made to take him from under the train. The engine was badly damaged, and will have to be sent to the shop and be rebuilt.

Jumbo's measurement after death was: Circumference of forearm, 5 feet, 6 inches; around front foot, 5 feet, 6 inches; twice around his foot is about his hight, viz., 11 feet; length of trunk, 7 feet 4 inches; around his tusk, 1 foot 3½ inches; length of fore leg, 6 feet. Jumbo's skeleton will be preserved in the National Museum at Washington, His hide has been presented to Tuft's College.

The Great Yacht Race.

The country was somewhat inflamed last week over the international race at New York between the English yacht Genesta and the American vacht Puritan. The course was 20 miles to Sandy Hook and return, and the terms were best two in three. The Puritan took "two straight heats." The first was on Tuesday, with a very light breeze, efforts to start on three or four previous days having been failures for lack of in consequence of a fire which destroyed the wind. Prices are about where they were a week ago, although some millers report a better inquiry for certain brands. The foreign demand has improved slightly.

The License Question. Reports from 59 cities and towns throughout Wisconsin on the result of the license question show that 23 carried $500 license, 36 carried $200 and one town a $350 fee. The low license majority in Milwaukee was nearly 15,000. The result is a great surprise to brewers, as it was not thought that a dozen places would adopt the maximum figures. Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, has vetoed the ordinance imposing a $500 license on brewers. The Mayor says that when the high license went into operation the brewers, in order to enable retailers to pay their licenses, voluntarily reduced the price of beer 10 per cent., amounting in all to more than $300,000.

Grand Rapids. The Society of the Army of the Cumberland held its 17th annual Reunion at Grand Rapids Mich., Sept. 16 and 17. There were about 500 members of the society in attendance, among them most of the officers, including Gen. P. H. Sheridan, President of the Society; Gen. Cist, the Secretary; Gen. Fullerton, the Treasurer; Gen. Mussey, Gen. Morgan, Gen. Poe, Gen. Barnett, Col. Shoemaker, Gen. Innes, Col. Fox, Gen. Cutcheon, Gen. Henry Stone, Gen. Purce, and Gen. Swavne.

A movement looking to the perpetuation of the society through the admission to membership of sons or relatives of its original members began, and will be reported by a committee. The Sons of Veterans of the United States held their fourth National Encampment there at the same time, and about 400 members, the cream of that splendid Order, were in camp at the Fair Grounds. Nearly every State and Territory in the Union was represented in this body, and a finer illustration of the young men of America could not be found.

An immense crowd gathered at Power's Opera House in the evening to attend the Reunion exercises. Gen. R. A. Alger, as Governor, delivered the address of welcome. Gen. Sheridan, on behalf of the society, responded. He was wildly cheered, and when the demonstration subsided he said:

I, as all my comrades know, very seldem say anyhing when I can get out of it. I can say, however, that all members of the Army of the Cumberland are very glad they came here and thank the people of Grand Kapids and Michigan for their kind attention. As Gov. Aiger as said, I came from Michigan and Grand Rapids, I started with the 2d Mich. Cav. and was soon promoted Brigadier-General how I was appointed, I don't know, but I was, and joined the regiment after dark the day I received the appointment. I was too busy from that time till a short time ago to be mustered into service, but I received my pay.

Gen. Alger explained how Sheridan was appointed Colonel. Gen. R. D. Mussey, of Washington, was orator of the evening, Judge Foraker being absent.

"Sheridan's Ride" and other war poems were rendered very effectively by Mrs. McCann. Speeches were also made by Gen. Warren Keifer, of Ohio; ex-Congressman Horr, of Saginaw; Gen. Morgan, of Illinois; Gen. Fullerton, of New York, and Gen. Innes, of Michigan. On the second day of the Reunion upward of 40 Posts of the G.A.R., a dozen Camps of Sons Veterans, several companies of militia, and visitors from every State in the Union were present. Several regimental Reunions were held for the renewal of old acquaintances and general good time. In the afternoon the grand procession took place, 5,000 being the estimated number of those in line.

At the morning meeting of the society Gen Barnett, Chairman of the Committee on the Garfield Monument, reported satisfactory progress. It will be placed on Maryland Circle, west of the Capitol building, in Washington. Officers were elected as follows: Pres., Gen. P. H. Sheridan; Sec., Gen. Cist. of Ohio; Treas., Gen. J. S. Fullerton, of Missouri; Recording Sec., Col. J. W. Steele. Vice Presidents were elected from each State. Gen. Ben Harrison, of of Mary L. > MEXICAN WAR VETERANS. The Old Boys Have a Good Time at Indianapolis.

The National Mexican War Veterans' Association held its annual Reunion at Indianapolis last week. The report of the committee on organization was as follows: For Pres., Gen. James W. Denver, of Ohio; for V.-P., Gen. Mahlon D. Manson, of Indiana; for Sec., Col. A. M. Keneday, of Washington, D. C.; for Treas., Capt. S. V. Niles, of Washington, D. C.; for Marshal, Maj. S. L. McFadden, of Indiana. A long list of Vice-Presidents, two from each State, the same as last year, with a few exceptions, was reported and the report was unanimously adopted. All the officers made brief speeches, returning their thanks for the honor. and pledging themselves to renewed efforts for the cause in which they are all interested. A resolution indorsing Gen. Manson as a suitable man to be appointed Pension Agent at Indianapolis, in case the present incumbent be removed, was adopted. The committee on resolutions made an extended report, which was adopted. Among the resolutions were the fol-

Resolved, That we still hope that Congress, which has hitherto failed to recognize the services of the soldiers, sailors, and marines of the Mexican war, will at no distant day do justice to them all by giving them such pension as belits their services, and as will save many of them from want and the suferings born of want and disease, and cheer their last days by the assurance that they are not wholly forgotten by their country,

Resolved, That whatever claims these veteran survivors of the war with Mexico may have upon their country, stand upon grounds so peculiar in respect to the time and circumstances in which hey originated as to fairly entitle them to the consideration of Congress upon their own merits. The President of the association was empowered to take charge of the resolutions conthereof to the attention of the President and Congress at the earliest possible day. Resolutions were also adopted indorsing the thanks to the citizens of Indianapolis. In the evening the veterans sat down to a banquet at the Grand Hotel. Vice-President Hendricks was among the speakers, and responded to the toast "The President, the Worthy Magistrate of the Republic," Mr. Hendricks confined himself to detailing the duties, powers, and responsibilities of the Presiconcluded by saying: "These enormous duties powers, and responsibilities now rest upon Mr. Cleveland, and it is the occasion of universal congratulation that he is strong enough and brave enough to stand up steadily under them."

The Heathen Chinee.

A San Francisco dispatch says: A horrible frightful stench was being emitted from a cellar on Pacific street. He went to the cellar and found the floor covered with human skulls and bones partially covered with flesh in the last stages of decomposition. In an inner room the coroner found a number of Chinese engaged in boiling down the remains of other bodies, while several other Chinamen were engaged in scraping the boiled bones and packing them in boxes for shipment to China. It is estimated that the cellar contained over 300 dead bodies, which have been taken secretly from various cemeteries throughout the State. As an instance of Chinese ingenuity it is stated that those in charge of these operations, fearing that the stench from the boiling pots would be so great as to attact attention outside, had procured two living skunks, so that the odor of the latter might overcome that of the former. The coroner has taken charge of all the remains.

"Thick as Hops."

The extent of the hop-picking industry, the Kingston (N. Y.) Freeman says, is attested by the fact that on Saturday and Monday week the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad sold 1,500 tickets for hop-pickers going to the belt that lies between Clayville and Norwich, a distance of about 40 miles. The Delaware & Hudson Road sent out a special train of six coaches in the morning to carry the pickers into the region between Clinton and Bouckpushed to the front. New England Veterans in the Shenandoah Valley. Last week about 150 New England veterans visited the Shenandoah Valley, the scene of the decisive battles under Sheridan. Prominent in the party were ex-Gov. Thomas and Gen. Chamberlain, of Vermont: Gen. Dickinson, of Connecticut; Col. Wellington, of Massachusetts; Gen. Rhodes, of Rhode Island, and many others from the New England States. The organization arrived on the 16th at Winchester, where they pitched tents and encamped on the old battlefield. They were met by the Winchester Light Inf., Capt. Multon, and by Corps No. 4 of Confederate Veterans. A Campfire was held, and the meeting of the blue and gray on the scene of their former bloody conflict was most fraternal. The next day they went to Harrisonburg, where they were tendered a reception and banquet.

On Saturday the dedication services of the marble shaft presented by Col. Herbert Hill, of Boston, and erected on the battlefield of the 19th of September, were largely attended. Lieut.-Gov. Ormsbee, of Vermont, delivered the oration. In the afternoon a banquet was given the New Englanders by the citizens of Winchester. The most hearty Virginia hospitality was shown. Mayor Williams welcomed the guests amid great applause from the visiting veterans. Col. Carroll Wright responded for them, and various other gentlemen spoke, including Judge J. M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, who delivered a very eloquent address. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, Democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia, who had been invited by the New Englanders to be present, responded in a letter, which was received with great applause. He wrote:

I regret that my political engagements will prevent my presence upon such an interesting occa-sion. Such Reunion produces a fraternal feeling among the sections and strengthens the Union of the States. The South is marching steadily forward, and hopes to do her share towards making this Republic what our forefathers intended she should be-the glory of America and a blessing to humanity. ARMY OF WEST VIRGINIA. Large Reunion Held at Portsmouth.

The city of Portsmouth, O., was gay with banners last week. Her thronged streets resounded to the tread of the old Army of West Virginia. Rarely have more elaborate preparations been made or a more hospitable welcome extended to veterans of the late war.

The three days' program opened with a procession perhaps the most extensive and complete ever participated in by the people of Portsmouth, every branch of trade being represented. The early trains and boats brought large numbers of people, and the city was filled to overflowing. After dinner the crowd proceeded to the camp grounds, in the northeastern part of the city, and assembled in a mammoth tent, with seating capacity of 10,000.
